MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL.

VOLUME VIII.—NEW SERIES. MILWAUKEE, THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 17, 1852. WHOLE NUMBER 2331.

Milwaukee Daily Sentinel.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING, (SUNDAYS EXCEPTED,) BY

RUFUS KING & CO.,

AT THE OFFICE,

Nos. 205 & 207 EAST WATER STREET,

CORNER OF WISCONSIN STREET,

TERMS:

THE DAILY SENTINEL will be left at the door of City Subscribers at SIX DOLLARS a year, payable Quarterly or 50 Cents a Month; or, 12½ Cents a Week, INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE.

TRI-WEEKLY SENTINEL—THREE DOLLARS a year, INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE, AND THE PAPER DISCONTINUED WHEN THE PERIOD FOR WHICH IT IS PAID, EXPIRES.

WEEKLY PAPER—TWO DOLLARS a year, INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE, AND THE PAPER DISCONTINUED, WHEN THE PERIOD FOR WHICH IT IS PAID EXPIRES. TO CLUBS OF TEN OR MORE, TO ONE ADDRESS, the Weekly will be sent for ONE DOLLAR A COPY.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS.

IN ORDER that there may be no misunderstanding in relation to Advertising, we here state the rates determined upon in our daily papers, from Jan. 1st, 1851:

1 square (per year)	$12 00	1 square,	2 weeks,	$2	75
1 " 9 months,	10 50	1 "	1 "	1	50
1 " 6 "	8 00	1 "	5 times,	1	38
1 " 3 "	6 00	1 "	4 "	1	25
1 " 2 "	5 00	1 "	3 days,	1	00
1 " 6 weeks,	4 50	1 "	2 "	0	75
1 " 1 month,	4 00	1 "	1 "	0	50
1 " 3 weeks,	3 50

Twelve lines Nonpareil (or less) make a square. Leaded Advertisements, "after reading matter," 50 per cent. additional above the above rates.

One sqr. for a year, with a change once a week, $25; 2 sqrs. $50; 3 sqrs. in the same way, $60; 2 sqrs. $100; 3 sqrs. with four changes a year, $75; (DAILY PAPER NOT INCLUDED.) No paper will be discontinued (unless at the discretion of the proprietors,) until all arrearages are paid.

Persons wishing to discontinue their yearly or casual advertising, must give notice at the Counting Room. All yearly advertisements discontinuing their advertising before the year is out, will be charged at the above rates.

The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited to their own immediate business, and all advertisements for the benefit of other persons, or on other business, must be paid for at the usual rates.

Communications, the effect of which is to promote private interests, to be paid for at the rate of 50 Cents per square for a single insertion.

In all cases where advertisements are sent in, marked "DAILY AND WEEKLY," they will be charged 50 Cents per square for the first insertion, and 25 Cents for each subsequent insertion in the Weekly.

Advertisements not accompanied with written directions, will be inserted one month, and charged accordingly.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

THE undersigned, having this day entered into a copartnership under the firm of BROWN & LARKIN, in the Red Warehouse at the foot of East Water street, near Wall-st., solicit a share of public and mercantile business from their friends and customers, that they are now doubly prepared to serve them promptly and efficiently, in every branch of their business.

Particular attention will be given to PURCHASING and SHIPPING WHEAT and other Produce for dealers in this market; also, to Storing Wheat for Merchants and Farmers, on the most favorable terms.

The business of Receiving and Forwarding Merchandize for Merchants and others, in the city and country, is particularly solicited, to which careful and prompt attention will at all times be given.

In disposing of property entrusted to us to be sold on Commission, our efforts will be to obtain the best prices in the market, and make quick and accurate returns for the same.

Bolivar and Rochester Coal,

CLEVELAND, OHIO.

Refer to L. J. Higby, Thomas P. Williams, and Kellogg, Strong & Co., Milwaukee.

THE undersigned would respectfully solicit the attention of dealers in and consumers of Coal in Milwaukee to our Card, as above. The Bolivar Coal is unquestionably superior to any other mined in Ohio, for Grate, Blacksmithing, Machinery, or Domestic purposes; and for Steam purposes, is superior to any except Briar Hill. It is peculiarly well adapted to Shipping, as its extreme hardness renders it capable of bearing any amount of handling, without waste. It can be afforded considerably cheaper than Briar Hill, and for most purposes, is better.

It is our wish to introduce the article, and we respectfully solicit orders, confident that a trial is only necessary to convince any of the truth of the above assertion.

MAN MAGNIFIED.

The flea magnified, until he looks as large as an elephant, and as ugly as a crawfish, is an old friend with all sight-seers. Neither are such marvels of the microscope, as the terrible combat displayed in the circle of light on the walls of the Polytechnic Institution—where animals, like all sorts of tigers and snakes, beetles and flying fish, dart and twist and jerk, in all directions—unfamiliar even to juvenile and nervous spectators. These are amongst the chosen subjects for popular illustrations. But far more startling objects may be seen through the lenses nearer home. Man may be magnified as well as fleas. The fancies of Swift have been paralleled by the discoveries of the microscopist. The rough skin of the Brobdingnagian has been shown in reality under the object glass, with other things much more strange than any the Dean ventured to imagine. Nowa-days, from the crown of the head to the sole of the foot, every tissue of the human frame has, in turn, become the subject of investigation. The bones on which the body is built—the muscles that move it—the brain that exerts the will—and the nerves that convey that will to each limb—the blood that vitalises and repairs—and the lungs which feed the blood with air—have all been put to the test, and made to reveal their peculiarities.

We need not, to see all this, set up of one hose, fifty guinea microscopes, or trouble anatomists for specimens. The whole task has been gone thro' by various medical inquiries, and we have the results told in scientific terms by Dr. Arthur Hill Hassall, in his volumes on the "Micro copic Anatomy of the Human Body, in Health and Disease," recently completed and published. Without troubling the Doctors for terms, let us see what facts they afford us.

No Microscope ever was made (nor ever will be made probably large enough to grasp any whole specimen of the genus Homo at once. You cannot catch a Brobdingnagian, or even a Tom Thumb, and put him under the power of eight or nine hundred diameters. But though we cannot magnify the entire animal at once, we can yet examine him in detail, portion by portion. One hair, or one drop of blood displays the characteristic features of its construction, just as completely as though the whole scalp, or the entire contents of the heart could be seen at once. Knowing one, we know all.

A small piece of skin, for instance, displays a series of furrows, having a somewhat scaly surface; between the ridges little openings are seen. They are the mouths of the perspiratory ducts—Under the surface, and forming the most important and interesting portion of the skin, is the layer in which resides the sense of touch; but if this be valuable, it is given less beautiful, as we see under the microscope, than the scaly cuticle provided for its protection, for it looks more like a dense crop of double teeth than any thing else—each tooth having four sharp tubercles. Between each tooth, we see the perspiratory duct winding its way deeper into the frame; just as a good farmer places tiles to drain his lands. These fleshy teeth are known as the papillary portion of the skin, and where they are most numerous, there is the sense of touch most keen. On the soft, sensitive hands and fingers of a young lady, looking the perfection of whiteness and delicacy, they are ranged thick and threefold; and so, too, are they on the skilful fingers of the workman trained to the more delicate manipulations of art. In the rough laborer, they become buried under a hard crust of coarse cuticle. The naked eye can easily detect the ridges into which the papillæ are arranged: each ridge being, in fact, two rows of papillæ—two rows of double teeth—but the microscope is wanted, if we wish to behold them in their exact forms—beautifully adapted to the work they have to do, but rougher than the rind of a pine-apple, or the scales of a French artichoke, and by no means as picturesque as the scale armour of a magnified flea.

The hair may be called the off-spring of the skin, and in health and disease, youth and age, there is a close sympathy between the two. A fine growth of hair, when magnified, might be compared to a plantation of osiers, when the leaves are off; with some differences, of course. Human hair is not perfectly round, as it seems to be when seen with the naked eye: nor is it of the same thickness through its whole length. At its origin in the skin, it swells out into a bulbous form, like a cucumber-root, or the body of a young spring onion, before the leaves have opened. From this base the hair springs forth, and gradually becomes bulkier as it lengthens. This goes on to a certain point, at which the greatest growth is attained; and then the hair grows finer by degrees and beautifully less; until, if allowed its full growth as on the head of a young damsel, its point is many times smaller and more delicate than the portion near the centre of its length. Some hair is much rounder, more cylindrical, than other; some being oval, and some flattened. The flat hair is what curls most. Adonis and the negro are, therefore, alike in one point at least.

Hairs vary very much, both in thickness and in length; those on the female scalp being, naturally, the longest of all; and those of the beard of men being next in length, and longer than those of the male head. The hair of the female scalp is not only longer than that of the male, but, in proportion to its length, is larger in diameter. The thickest of all human hair, however, is that of the beard of men; and the investigations of this subject tend to justify the assertions of the barbers, that frequently cutting and shaving the hair, has a tendency to make it thicker. Every hair has a stem and a root, just as a tree has; the root being bedded in the skin just as the tree is in the earth. But the comparison does not end here. The tree has a bark, medulla, and intervening substance; the hair has the same. The bark (or cortex) of the hair displays a series of scales placed, one overlapping another, just as we see tiles overlap on a house-top.

Immediately below this scaly bark we have a fibrous portion, forming two-thirds of the bulk of the hair. These fibres are seen to separate when the hair splits from being left too long uncut. The centre of the hair has a little canal, full of fat oily, marrow-like substance, containing the greater part of the coloring matter; black in black hair, brown in brown hair, and almost absent when the hair has become grey. The narrow of the hair, and its two outer coatings, are well seen in a section of a hair from a well-shaved chin. The razor, day by day, cuts it across, it cannot grow longer, so it grows thicker and stronger; and each slice taken away by the mannual shave, looks, under the microscope, like a section of a bone; just as a bone is cut across when a ham is cut into slices for breakfast; whilst the stump remaining on the chin has just the same look as the bone on the section of grilled ham ready for the breakfast-table. The thinly shaved mouth is thickly dotted round by myriads of hideous ham-stumps, with inner layer and narrow all exposed. Fashion, ever since the days of Louis Quatorze, has demanded the sacrifice, and men continue to pay it. Happily they do not see the stumps of their beards through a microscope, or razor-makers would starve.

Fat appears to be a series of little globules, each enclosed in a vesicle. A collection of fat, therefore, is like a series of receptacles each full of oily matter. The hold of a Dutch or Irish trader full of well-filled bladders of lard, resembles the material which makes up the cells of fat that traditionally hang, like robes of office, about an alderman. The consistence of fat varies in different animals, and varies in hot and cold weather. The fat of an ox or sheep is harder than that of a pig; that of the human subject being intermediate between the two extremes. The quantity of fat secreted varies (as is well known) in different animals, and in different constitutions; the tendency to its increase varies at different times of life. In man, the unwieldly accumulation of fat usually indicates that he has passed the meridian of life. A moderate proportion of these bladders of oil, however, adds both to health and to beauty.—

Their uses are many. They give softness to the skin, symmetry to the human outline; they are a garment to keep out cold; often (as on the soles of the feet) act as guards against injurious pressure on bones, and nerves, and muscles; and in certain cases, form a reserve of nourishment on which the system can draw for sustaining life, when food cannot be taken, or is not to be had. So, if the fat of the frame, when magnified, does look like a portion of the contents of a provision shop, the similitude is as great in fact as in appearance.

Marrow only differs from fat in this respect—the cells are rounder, and it is less enamelled with cellular tissues. Inside a bone, the fat requires, in fact, less tying together than is needed in other situations on the body.

From this partial substitute for food to the masticators of it, is no very violent digression. The teeth, under the microscope, are seen to be made up of three different portions; the enamel on the surface above the gum; the ivory, making up the bulk of the tooth beneath the enamel; and the cortex of the fangs. The ivory of the tooth is full of small tubes, running from the cavity in the centre towards the outer surface of the tooth.—These tubes get finer and finer as they approach the surface, and many of them branch out like little tubular trees. The microscope gives strength to the supposition, that decay of the teeth, with the horrible ruins which accompany it, arises from a parasitical growth promoted by a vitiated condition of the secretions of the mouth. The tartar that accumulates on neglected teeth consists of lime mixed with mucus, and the refuse from the living substance of the mouth. This substance contains, in the case of negligent and dirty people, animalcules and vegetable growths. Imagine a human being with a small zoological and botanical collection between, and around about, the teeth!

We have spoken of the skin, the hair, the fat, and the teeth: all contributing to the appearance of the surface of the body. One other of the materials of which the frame is made up must be mentioned; for, from it all the rest are built up; upon its presence their vitality depends; and to its brightness and visibility is due that great charm of the beauties of England—a blooming complexion. We speak of the blood. It seems simply a crimson fluid, till scrutinized under the magic glass of the microscopist. Instead of appearing one evenly bright red stream, we see that it is made up of globules, some of which are white, and others red. The white ones, indeed, are largest, and roundest; but the red ones are by far the most numerous. On they flow, whilst life lasts; the red dots being too many in a plethoric alderman, or fox-hunting squire; and too few in a pale, love-lorn maiden. But in both alike, on, on they flow through the arteries, like myriads of red and white billiard balls running through a series of tubes.

This revelation of the ultimate forms of living structure may not altogether make up a flattering picture. Man magnified may be less handsome than man seen by ordinary unassisted eyesight.—Skin, rough as the bark of an old pine tree; hair, a winter osier bed; teeth, encrusted by earthly matter; and blood sometimes shown gluttonously rich, and sometimes indolently poor, make no flattering picture for self-satisfied contemplation. But the roughness of the skin, covered by its myriads of perspiratory ducts, teaches the need for careful cleanliness; the hair, tortured by frizzling irons and mutilated by razors, suggests a thought as to the purposes for which portions of the frame were thus carefully covered by the Author of all things: teeth becoming sources of agonizing pain, and falling to decay, teach the wise necessity of giving them proper care—both direct, by washing, and indirect, by keeping the juices of the mouth pure by proper food and whole-some temperance. Blood too white or too red warns us against gluttony on the one hand, or indolence or immittion on the other.

There is not one particle of the vast natural kingdom but has its lessons, if we do but take the trouble to read it. Surely there is an obvious code of morals plainly indicated in this one glimpse of Man Magnified.—Household Words.

RIVER AND HARBOR IMPROVEMENT.

The Sentinel accuses the democratic party and its candidates of hostility to River and Harbor Improvements. This is said in the spirit of reckless assertion, vituperation and falsehood with which it is evident the opposition are determined to carry on the campaign.—Morning News.

We have made the assertions, generally, and particularly as to Mr. Pierce, the News' candidate for President. Above is the denial, very general. We will not stop to prove our charge true against the party which chooses to style itself "democratic," as the people of the West know very well that they have regularly defeated the harbor and river bills for a series of years. We prove our charge against the individual candidate of the self styled "democracy," as follows:

In Mr. Pierce's several terms in the House of Representatives, 1834-5, he was, absolutely, distinguished for nothing else than by his constant and bitter hostility to river and harbor improvement.

In June, 1836, he voted against the bill "making additional appropriations for the Delaware Breakwater, and for certain harbors, and removing obstructions in and at the mouths of certain rivers, and for other purposes, for the year 1836" —a bill which passed in spite of him, and which Gen. Jackson signed.

At the same session, Mr. Pierce voted against the bill making appropriations for the improvement of certain harbors therein mentioned,' which was also afterwards approved by General Jackson.

At the same session he voted against the bill to continue the Cumberland road in the States of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. This was on the 22th of June, and on the 21 of July General Jackson signed that very Cumberland road bill.

While in the Senate, in the session of 1837-8 Mr. Pierce voted against a harbor bill, which even Silas Wright and James Buchanan voted for—so consistent was Mr. Pierce's opposition.

At the same session, Mr. Pierce voted against a bill for the benefit of the Alabama, Florida and Georgia Railroad Company, which was a measure of such a character, that even Mr. Calhoun and Mr. Grundy voted for it, and Mr. Pierce found himself in a minority of six in opposition.

And still again, when, at the same session, a bill was before the Senate for the "benefit of the Mount Carmel and New Albany Railroad Company in the State of Indiana"—providing for a grant of alternate sections along the road, the Company contracting to carry the mail for twenty years without charge to the government: which would pay the Government at the rate of one dollar and six cents for each acre granted, Mr. Pierce, always ready to oppose anything in the shape of aid to internal improvement, spoke and voted against it.

All the above is from the record. Yet the News says that it is all "reckless assertion, vituperation, and falsehood," when we charge its candidate with being opposed to harbor and river, or any other internal improvements.

The people of the Lake region and of the whole wide West, will judge of the merits of this candidate for their sufffages. They shall have the facts before them—nothing more and nothing less.

THE STATE LOAN.—The Ft. Winnebago River Times is decidedly behind the age. It works up into an editorial article the slanderous accusations against Gov. FAIRWELL relative to the State Loan, and presents them to its readers as news matter! It is rather too much to expect us to go through with the exposure of these calumnies again, and we do not suppose it necessary, as the whole truth has long ago been spread before, and is known to, the people of the State. As a "specimen brick," we copy the following from the Times' article of June 7th:

Recently we have learned, and from good authority, that the Governor has not insisted upon the payment into the Treasury of the balance due the State on this arrangement, but has directed that an order or certificate be issued to the person to whom the State is indebted for the amount of said indebtedness on Marshall & Ilsley—that this order or certificate, on being presented at their counter in Milwaukee, is then paid in uncurrent funds—the bills of a Wheeling Bank in Virginia, of doubtful reputation.

Each and every assertion in the paragraph is false. The money was all paid in six weeks since and more.

A CREDITABLE ALLY.—The opposition papers are chuckling and rejoicing over the open accession of the New York Herald to their ranks, in the advocacy of Mr. Pierce's election. We wish them joy of their ally. Under the guise of neutrality, the Herald has wielded its influence against whig policy always. Now it takes up the cudgel for Mr. Pierce, because, to use its own language—he is:

Opposed to River and Harbor corrupt and rascally appropriations.

Opposed to all rotten and rascally Western railroad speculations with the public lands.

Opposed to a high speculative protective Tariff, under any disguise.

Opposed to the corrupt distribution of the proceeds of the public domain among the States.

Opposed to all useless or partial steamship monopolies and all corrupt contracts for the establishment of new lines of ocean mail steamers.

Any one acquainted with the reputation of the Herald will leave out the italicized expletives, and find left the regular "PIERCE platform." Certainly no one can for a moment suppose that the Herald opposes anything because it is "corrupt and rascally."

☞ Governor Fairwell negotiated a loan of the requisite amount, with the firm of Marshall & Ilsley, a shin plaster concern in Milwaukee, to whom the State pays 8 per cent and 2 per cent premium.—Ft. Winnebago Times.

Without going into any criticism of the courteous words "a shinplaster concern," we only say that Messrs. MARSHALL & ILSLEY issue no bills of any kind whatever, and that among those who know them, no vindication of their good name as business men is required. Whenever their credit is likely to be disturbed by any such rumors as those of the Times, we will "make a note of it."

A FORGERY.—The Madison Democrat parades before its readers what purports to be a portion of a private letter from HORACE GREELY, written in 1848, sneering at Gen'l SCOTT. No other remark is required in regard to it, save that Mr. GREELY pronounces the letter a FORGERY.

Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad.

The Madison Democrat copies our paragraph relative to the feeling shown at Madison as to the Janesville connection with the M. & M. Railroad and adds:

In all kindness, we protest that the feeling attributed to us was not of our own creation. The good faith of the company was pledged to a speedy completion of the road to Madison. We were told by those in authority with the company that means were obtained and that this road was to be completed to this place by the first of January next.—More recently we learned by the Milwaukee papers that the resources and energies of the company are to take another direction—it is to be first completed to Janesville, to "increase the ability of the company to reach Madison." We were not posted as to circumstances, and consequently entertained doubts as to the change of policy. How the building of the road in an opposite direction, with an implied opposite terminus, could forward the chances for its speedy completion to this place, is what we could not comprehend, any more than the reasons for beautifying the road with curve lines extending a hundred and ten miles to make a distance of eighty-five, over just as good ground in a straight line. It may be all right—undoubtedly is—but we simply wanted to know it. The engineers are now at work on this route, and this fact goes very far to establish the confidence which was shaken by the givings out of the Milwaukee editors.

We would be the last to advocate the exclusive and narrow policy of confining these great and important thoroughfares to particular limits or localities; we would have every place and portion of the country served to the extent of its means; we but objected to use the facilities pledged to one section to the exclusive advantage of another and remote section. We are all friendly to this road and all roads in the State, but shall constantly insist upon fair play and good faith. If the Janesville extension is to retard or hazard the final completion of the road to this place, we object—if not, not.

We are glad to see a more kindly feeling at Madison. As things have looked for some months past, it has seemed as if the good people there were determined that the company should work night and day to reach Madison, and at the same time determined to do all that lay in their power to prevent their reaching that town. We need only recal the fact that the whole Dane County delegation in the Legislature reported against allowing the people to say whether they would, as a county, aid the road with a subscription.

From one remark made in the article quoted above, we suppose that the Democrat has not learned that the company expect to straighten their road considerably between here and Madison, by turning toward the latter place at Whitewater rather than at Milton. We understand that the engineers are at work to that end now.

The Candidate.

Says the Ft. Winnebago Times:

We are enabled, by the aid of the Telegraph, and its most successful competitor, the Daily Wisconsin Democrat, to lay before our readers, to-day the name of the nominee of the Baltimore Convention for President of the United States.

Our cotemporary "cannot disguise its regrets that Gen. Cass did not receive the nomination"—comforts its fallen idol with the verse—

"—There's a glory brighter far
Than all the earth has given;
A beacon like the index star,
That points the way to heaven—

and forthwith enthusiastically hoists the name of—"GEN. FRANKLIN W. PEARCE!!!

Trial of Agricultural Implements.

The New York State Agricultural Society has arranged for an exhibition and trial of Farmers' Implements, to be held at the village of Geneva, about the 20th of next month. Notice must be given to the Committee of Arrangements of an intention to exhibit, before the 10th, by addressing the Chairman, JOHN S. PROUTY, Esq., at Geneva. It may be a matter of importance to our farmers to attend the trial, and satisfy themselves of the relative value of the tools which are offered them from time to time. Geneva is a charming village on the banks of Seneca Lake, and on the central line of railroads; possessing ample means and inclination to treat its visitors handsomely.

THE ARMY IN TEXAS.—A correspondent of the St. Louis Missouri Republican says he has not seen a paper since the 20th of last February. He says that General Smith has determined to place the head-quarters of the Rifle Regiment, with six companies, at the crossing of San Antonio and Laredo roads with the Nueces river.

Two companies, F. and H., Brevet Lieutenant Colonel Porter, and Capt. Lindsay, go up immediately to clear the ground of cactus and other rubbish; 5 companies follow to assist in the building, one company, the band and sick, remain here until quarters are completed.

The quarters are to be made of such material as the country affords, with very light drafts for funds on the Quartermaster's Department, except for forage for the horses, until they become acclimated.

AN ENDORSEMENT.—The News calls our attention to a paragraph which escaped our notice in Fond du Lac Journal to wit:

"We hear that in conversation with a gentleman from this State, President FILLMORE said that he regarded the Green Bay Spectator as the ablest, most reliable and interesting Whig paper in Wisconsin."

Very well said, and, considering the Spectator's relations to the President, very well deserved. It is pleasant, even at this late day, to find Mr. Fillmore recognizing his friends.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE.—We have received the circular of this earnest and truly named American association, announcing its 25th Annual Fair, to be held at Castle Garden, New York City, on the 5th and several ensuing days of October next. An exhibition of stock will also take place on the 19th of the same month. The circular says, with truth:—

The American Institute has been the pioneer in movements designed to advance the manufacturing and mechanical interests of the United States, to improve its agriculture, and to improve the condition and elevate the character of its laboring men. It pledged itself, in its earliest address to the public, to stand firmly by these interests, and for a period of 25 years, it has kept its faith with the public, inviolate.

THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW, for May, 1852. LEONARD SCOTT & Co's republications.

The number of this admirable review, which has just reached us, is one of great interest. It opens with a lengthy article upon "the Prospects of British State-manship and Policy," in which the writer maintains, while he laments, that England has for years labored under a defective supply of able public servants—of men who are able to serve their country, and willing to do it in the National Parliament. A review of Combe's Constitution of Man follows, under the title of "Phrenology—its place and relations"—which latter the author makes quite subordinate, and refuses to accord the title of a "science" to the study itself. "Village Life in England" is a very readable article. A powerful paper entitled "Romanism and European Civilization" follows, and an article on Dr. Chalmers' life, the Scottish Church, and cognate subjects, with other papers, occupy the pages of the number.

If the singular, sometimes laughed at, always mysterious, seemingly contradictory, theory and very successful practice of Homœopathy does not gain ground rapidly in the world, it is not for want of zeal or industry on the part of its advocates. The periodical before us is ably edited and well supported.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.—The Cleveland Free Democrat says:

Messrs. Jewett & Co., of Boston, in a letter to Jewett, Proctor & Worthington, of this city, under date of June 4th, say: "This week we have printed the 70th thousand, and next week shall print the 80th thousand of Uncle Tom's Cabin.—No abatement in sales, averages from 1000 to 15,000 sets per diem. We have heard from North and South Carolina, that it is beginning to sell there like wildfire, and is generally much liked.—A letter from the "Era" office at Washington, this morning, ordering a quantity, says: "It is just beginning to go."

WISCONSIN RIVER.—The steamer Enterprise, Capt. SCOTT, arrived from Galena last Thursday evening, reports the sand as settled to a level all over the bed of the river, and making the navigation of the stream, for the present, very hard. A very short time, however, will suffice to form a good channel again, as the water is down to its natural stage.—Ft. Winnebago Times.

PUBLIC PRINTING.

Madison, June 14, '52.

Messrs Editors:

Some little excitement has prevailed here among editors, Printers and newspaper men, for several days past, growing out of a decision of the Secretary of State; and inasmuch as you and your readers are interested in this decision, I propose to give you a statement of the same, in order that you and the readers of your valuable paper may determine whether the decision is right or wrong.

Among the bids for Public Printing, was one of D. C. Dickson, containing a clause to the effect following:—

"For all work of an extraordinary character, not usually ordered or required by the Legislature for its use—plain composition, 40 cents per 1000 ems. Press work, 40 cents per token,"—the prices being about twice or three times as high as the other bids.

This bid was, without making computation on the same, unhesitatingly rejected by the Secretary. From this decision, the printers of this place, who seem to be interested, have taken the appeal to the Governor, Treasurer and Attorney General, authorized by the law. What their decision may be, is not yet known; many think they will decide differently from the Secretary, and allow the bid to come in; others think the Secretary will be sustained.

The law has, as you are aware, divided the printing into three classes, as follows:

1st. The incidental printing, comprising all printing incident to the business of the two Houses, while in session.

2nd. The Journals and documents of the two houses, and all laws passed by the legislature.

3rd. The printing of the several State Departments.

Hence it will be seen at once that no provision whatever is made in the law for bids for extra printing. In the notice given by the Secretary of State he says, "no bill will be considered, if containing other stipulations or qualifications than those specified in the laws of this State relating to printing." The bid then, containing an item not authorized by the law, in compliance with the notice previously given, was neglected. Although politically at variance with the Secretary of State, I am, after investigating this matter, confirmed in my belief that his decision is correct, and that it is the offspring of honest motives. Others at this place, I regret to say, charge upon him incorrect motives in making this decision. But, altho' opposed to him in politics, I have too much confidence in his personal honesty and integrity to believe any motion but a desire to honestly discharge his duty would influence his action.

That this item in Mr. Dickson's bid which is objected to, is not authorized by the law, is not denied; but it is contended that the Secretary has a right to take into consideration the bid disregarding the objectionable part. One of two things is evident. It was intended by this item to gouge the State if possible, by "wringing in" for extra work, having particular reference no doubt to the anticipated history of Wisconsin by Gen. Smith; or to insist upon having this bid set aside in case that of D. C. Brown, late of the Democrat of this place, should happen to be the lowest. The bid of C. C. Sholes is the lowest, and Brown's the next—the difference being very small. Dickson's bid, striking out the objectionable part, is in the neighborhood of $500 the lowest, on the basis adopted to compute from. Including in it the objectionable item it is several thousand dollars the highest. I will close by adding that it seems reasonable, if the Secretary has a right to strike out this item, he would would have a right to alter the bid in any other particular. B.

City Matters.

Laying of the Corner Stone.

A large number of our citizens turned out yesterday afternoon to witness the laying of the corner stone of the Milwaukee FEMALE NORMAL INSTITUTE. After appropriate services at the building by Rev. Mr. HUMPHREY of Racine, the articles prepared, including copies of the papers of the city, were deposited in the box by Rev. Mr. PARKOSS, and the spectators adjourned to the Plymouth Church, where they were addressed in good, plain, homely style, by Rev. Dr. HUMPHREY, upon the subject of education in general, and of this enterprise, in particular. After he had concluded, the meeting was addressed for a few moments by W. P. FLANDERS and A. D. SMITH of this city, urging the necessity and propriety of raising hold of this good work, and not suffering it to flag, until the building is completed, and the school in full operation in it. To do this, only about $2000 is necessary. Is there not public spirit enough, to say nothing of selfish interest, among our citizens, to secure that sum at once?

EMIGRATION AGENT.—We had the pleasure of calling on our Emigration Agent, Mr. VAN STEENWYK, while in New York, and were gratified to find him at work so industriously and wisely. He explained to us his plans, the difficulties he had to encounter, and the progress he had already made in his agency. We think he has conducted his business prudently, and that he is altogether too shrewd for the New York sharpers, who are always on the alert to make such agents subservient to their interests. His office is 110 Greenwich street, the very best location for his Agency.—Free Democrat.

THE MENAGERIE.—RAYMOND & Co., and VAN AMBURG & Co's grand menagerie is to make its appearance here to-day. We don't expect to startle any one with the news, for an extensive business has been done in advertising its various wares. We only wish to remind the philosophers of our city, old and young, that the elephants, ostriches, monkeys, zebras, and other webfooted quadrupeds, and Behemoth and Leviathan and other pretty birds, will be along to-day in grand state.

IMMIGRANTS.—The German people, coming to unite with the thousands of their brethren here in a new father-land, crowded in thick and fast yesterday. Many a closely packed load passed our office on their way to the upper part of the city, their huge boxes making the cart horses groan again as they drew them after. Wisconsin, like Oliver, "asks for more."

CUTTING DRESS PATTERNS.—Our fair readers will find something to interest them in an advertisement by Mrs. Rockwood who is to be found at the City Hotel. It is rather too much to expect that we should be able to discuss the matter understandingly, but a slight examination of the patterns, old and new, exhibited to us by the lady seemed very conclusive of the merits of the latter.

PANORAMA OF ITALY.—Taylor's & Co's Panorama of Italian scenery, which has been exhibiting for a fortnight in Chicago to crowded houses, without any special puffing, is to open here next week.

STORM.—After a sultry morning yesterday, the skies clouded over about noon, and between 4 and 5 P. M., such a rain came pouring down as we have seldom seen. Everthing animate and inanimate, looks refreshed.

FOURTH OF JULY MEETING.—The adjourned meeting is to be held to-night at the Common Council Room, and a full attendance is hoped for.

☞ ROONEY sells to-day a lot of groceries, an assortment of furniture, and frame dwelling house. See his advertisement.

THE MAILS!—Not a Buffalo paper last night—nor an Albany paper,—and the New York and Detroit papers a day behind time! Quousque tandem &c! "Our sufferings is intolerable."

SUN STRUCK.—An Irishman, named HARTIGAN, was sun struck on Tuesday afternoon, and died in the evening. He was lately from the old country.

ACCIDENT.—John Donnelly, a deck hand on board the steamer Arctic, becoming in some way entangled with the line fastenings as the boat was coming to the wharf on Saturday, was so badly injured that it became necessary to amputate one of his legs, which was done at the Marine Hospital, where the unfortunate man is very comfortably located and well cared for.—Chicago Journal.

Scott Meeting at Louisville.

Louisville, June 10.

A large Scott meeting was held at the Court House in this city, last night, at which his Honor Mayor Speed presided.

Resolutions were passed, endorsing and complimenting the Administration of President Fillmore, expressing unbounded confidence in Gen. Scott, and giving assurance that he would triumphantly carry Ky. Several speeches were made, and great enthusiasm was manifested.

ARRIVAL OF THE BALTIC

New York, June 11.

The Baltic arrived yesterday at noon. Cotton quiet and less firm. Flour ready sales at full rates of last week. Corn advanced 1@2c with no letato arrivals. In other American produce nothing to report, business having been of a retail character.

Washington, June 10.

House—The Speaker stated the question before the House to be on reconsidering the vote by which a few days since the Senate bill granting land to Iowa in construction of certain railroads, was laid on the table. The House refused to lay the motion to reconsider on the table; and, also, refused to reconsider the bill. The House refused to take up the Pennsylvania contested election case of Wright against Fuller. House went into committee of the whole on the Indiana appropriation bill—political speeches followed, and on committee rising the House adjourned.

Senate—Various unimportant petitions were presented.

Mr. Seward presented the memorial of the Chamber of Commerce of New York, asking Congress to adopt measures to remove obstructions from the mouth of the Mississippi.

Mr. Brooks offered a resolution calling for the report on the expediency of constructing a ship canal through the peninsula of Florida, agreed to. Adjourned.

Concord, N. H., June 10.

Democratic Convention met this morning—Henry Hubbard, President. Adjourned Reassembled at 2½ o'clock. Gov. Martin, unanimously nominated for re-election. Nominated for President electors, Nathaniel B. Baker, Saml Webster, Samuel Jones, Henry Hubbard, S. A. Douglas.

First Response to the Democratic Nominations.

The N. Y. Tribune thus notices the result of the first election since the nominations:

The IVth Distnct of Maine was carved out expressly to send Loco-Focos in succession to Congress. Lincoln county is Whig; so is her next neighbor, Kennebec; and the only way to prevent their electing two Whigs in Congress was believed to be found in the connection of Lincoln by a mere thread of territory with a portion of Oxford, a Locofoco stronghold, though Whig Kennebec lies nearly between them. The District thus carved out is known as "the Conklin" district, (as Portland Commerce supposes) because of its unreliable politics, but because of its erratic and unparalleled shape.

In 1850, it chose Charles Andrews (Opp.) by 66 majority; but he, dying a short time since, a special election was held on Monday last, and Isaac Reed, the Whig who was beaten by Andrews two years ago, was elected by some 500 majority. This election took place in the midst of the Locofoco rejoicings, cannonades, &c., &c., over the harmonious issue of their Baltimore Convention, and may be taken as the first substantial response from New England to the nomination of Pierce and King. N. B.—The Whigs of that District go the entire for Winfield Scott for President.

☞ We should like to know what knowledge of Western interests is possessed by either the Mexican General Pierce, or the old fogy politician from Alabama, King. There was some good reason why the six delegates from Ohio to found it necessary to enter their protest against the nomination. They saw their interests of the West abandoned, and could not consent to become a party to a piece of treachery so apparent.—Cin. Atlas.

The fact that the six delegates from Ohio to the Democratic National Convention deemed it their duty to enter their protest against the nomination of Pierce and King, is an important one. It affords the strongest evidence that the ticket cannot unite the Democracy of Ohio, and we presume from what will ensue dissatisfaction among the Democrats of that great State must create dissatisfaction among the Democrats of a good many other States. There are Democrats who will go unhesitatingly for any partizan nomination; but there are also Democrats who are proud and honest enough to exercise a sound discretion of their own.—Lou. Jour.

FIRE ON THE CENTRAL RAILROAD.—On Monday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, the Freight House of the Central Railroad Company at Wayne, was discovered to be on fire. When the doors were opened, it was found that the fire had got such headway that it was too late to hope to save it. It is supposed that the fire caught from a spark of a locomotive; and as there were some bales of cotton batting, and other combustable materials, it had spread very rapidly. The fire after it was discovered, spread from the freight house to the passenger house, and got into some cord-wood belonging to the company. Mr. Rice, from the Depot of this city, took an engine up after hearing of the fire, but he arrived too late to do much service. The loss is not considered very heavy, as the buildings were wood, and only in temporary use. There was a few small lots of flour, belonging to some country millers, stored in the freight house, which were buried up with other stuff in the Depot.—Detroit Adv.

AN ACT

To amend Section 32 of Chapter 81 of the Revised Statutes.

The people of the State of Wisconsin represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SEC. 1. That section eighty-two, of chapter eighty four, of the Revised Statutes, is hereby amended so as to read as follows: All sales of mortgaged premises, under the decree of the court, shall be made by the Sheriff or such other person as shall be named in the decree of sale, as a commissioner for that purpose, in the county where the premises or some part of them are situated, unless otherwise directed in the decree of sale.

SEC. 2. That section eighty-three of chapter, eighty-four, of the Revised Statutes, is hereby amended so to read as follows; Deeds shall thereupon be executed by such sheriff or other person, as shall have been named in the decree of sale, as a commissioner for that purpose, which shall vest in the purchaser the same estate, and no other or greater, than would have vested in the mortgagee, if the equity of redemption had been foreclosed, and such deeds shall be as valid as if the same were executed by the mortgagor and mortgagee, and shall be an entire bar against each of them, and against all parties to the suit, in which the decree for such sale was made, and against their heirs respectively, and all claiming under such heirs, and against all persons claiming under either of the parties to the suit by any conveyance or instrument, subsequent to the commencement of such suit.

SEC. 3. All sales hereto re made by any person appointed by the court, for that purpose, other than the sheriff of the proper county, and the deeds executed thereon by virtue of the provisions of said sections eighty-two and eighty-three, are hereby declared to be as valid to all intents and purposes, as if the said sales had been made, and the deeds executed by the sheriff of the proper county.

SEC. 4. The following fees shall be allowed to the officer or person making such sale, in full for all services required to be performed in executing such decree, viz:

For making sale when the amount of the decree does not exceed five hundred dollars, the sum of five dollars.

When the amount of the decree exceeds five hundred dollars, and less than one thousand dollars, the sum of eight dollars.

And when the amount of the decree exceeds one thousand dollars, the sum of ten dollars.

For drawing, executing, and acknowledging the deed, the sum of three dollars.

For making the report of sale, in each case three dollars.

For travel performed in making such sale, to be computed from the court house, five cents per mile, going and returning.

Approved, April 17, 1852.

THE FIRST PARTY MOVEMENT.—Assuming as we well may, that the nominee of the Democratic convention will accept the nomination, the first and most important movement of that party is irretrievably made. From conversation with several gentlemen of the Democratic faith, we incline to believe that a general dissatisfaction is felt in this region at the choice of the convention. Nor is this matter for surprise. Mr. Pierce—for the gentleman has resigned his military rank and title—is understood to be unexceptionable in personal character, and is respectable as a citizen. But the impression seems to prevail that when this is said, all is said. He is not known to possess any of those qualities which ought to be found in any one aspiring to the responsible post of Chief Magistrate of this republic, and was to all appearance not seriously thought of as the party's candidate when the convention assembled. As a public man in a civic capacity, he is even less known than was Mr. Polk at the time of his nomination: and as a politician, though he has represented his State in both houses of Congress, he may almost be said to be without reputation. As a military man his service has been brief, but he won, we believe, the good will of his fellow officers. He was on the staff of Gen. Scott. As a statesman he will be completely overshadowed, should the Whig nomination fall upon either Mr. Webster or Mr. Fillmore; as a soldier he will be equally distanced should Gen. Scott be the Whig candidate. His inability to bear a comparison with either of the probable Whig candidates is so obvious that we do not wonder at the mortification and dissatisfaction felt among reflecting democrats. —*N. Y. Drug Ware House!

S. JOHNSON, JR.,

No. 151, East Water St., Milwaukee, Wis.

THE SUBSCRIBER has now on hand, and is constantly receiving his supplies, selected by himself from the stocks of the largest importing, Manufacturing and Commission Houses in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and the Southern Market.

His arrangements are so perfected for purchasing, as to defy competition; and it will at all times give him pleasure to exhibit

THE QUALITY AND VARIETY OF HIS STOCK,

The Wholesale Department

OF HIS ESTABLISHMENT

Has been very much enlarged the present season, to enable him the better to attend the increasing demand in this branch of business.

CITY & COUNTRY CUSTOMERS

Will find at all seasons of the year, a more general assortment of Goods than can be found at any similar establishment in the west.

LAMP OILS.

Consisting of Pure Winter Sperm Oil, Pure Summer Sperm Oil, Refined Whale Oil, Neats Foot Oil, Solar Sperm Oil, Lard Oil, Elephant Oil, Tanner and Currier's Oil.

Paints, Oils, and Dye Stuffs.

WINDOW GLASS.

This we make a heavy article of our business, keeping at all times a large stock, and selling at very low prices. Our assortment comprises all sizes, from 7x9 to 36x44, French, English and American Glass, of single and double thickness.

GLASS-WARE.

We sell on commission at manufacturer's prices, consisting of Physicians and Druggists ware, Bottles, Vials, Flasks, &c. &c., in cases of all sizes, to suit purchasers.

WINES AND LIQUORS.

Direct from the importer, purchased expressly for medicinal purposes. Invalids may rely upon the purity, quality, and age of the above.

Patent Medicine Depot.

DRUGS & MEDICINES.

East India and Mediterranean Drugs, French, English, and American Chemicals, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Varnishes, Window Glass and Putty, Brushes of all kinds, Patent Medicines generally, Shakers' Herbs, Roots and Extracts, Thomsonian Preparations, Druggists' and Physicians' Glass-ware and Furniture, Surgical Instruments, Philosophical Apparatus, &c. &c.

S. JOHNSON, Jr. has in store the heaviest stock of Drugs and Medicines west of Buffalo, which he is

DETERMINED TO REDUCE

During the present year, and for that purpose he offers inducements to purchaser that cannot fail to command attention.

Having been appointed agent for the sale of Goutnor's Sanitary Ointment, he will have on hand, at all times, a full supply, which will be sold to Physicians and Dealers at New York prices.

S. JOHNSON, Jr. will act as agent for the sale of all reputable Medicines in the City of Milwaukee, for the usual rates of commission. my1

LEATHER POLISH!

Do you know that of all the articles manufactured in this city,

SHELDON'S OIL WATER PROOF POLISH

Is attracting the most universal admiration where it has been tested! We can produce testimony of the highest reputation, and are confident of yours, if you will but give it a trial.

It gives a brilliant polish, and is not washed off by Castile soap and water. It is easily applied, and will last at least as long as leather. Ladies commend it very highly for their own, and

MISSES SHOES AND RUBBERS.

Adding to a brilliant lustre the virtue of not soiling the whitest linen. For Gentlemen's

IMPORTANT TO THE PUBLIC!

THE following advertisement was published in May, 1849, in the "Boston Daily Times," and various other newspapers in the United States, by James G. Wilson, Esq., the owner of the "Woodworth Planing Machine," and the inventor of the "CELTIC STATIONARY CUTTER, PLANING, TONGUEING, AND GROOVING MACHINE," that about the United States!

"PLANING MACHINES.

"I take this method of answering the frequent inquiries by letter and otherwise, made upon me from the various sections of the country, in relation to the various Planing Machines attempted to be palmed off upon several persons ignorant of their true worth. I would state, for the information of the public generally, that they will find substantially the machine now offered by several pretending inventors, described in the 10th volume of the Repertory of Arts, &c., as invented by a Mr. Samuel Bentham, in the year 1791. A like machine was patented in this country by one Kugler, some sixteen years since, and another one put up by Albert Richards, of Vt. and Troy, N. Y., and I adjured about the same time. It ought to satisfy the public to know that after fifty years' experience in getting upon three machines, not one in use to-day, and of no further purposes contemplated.

I will furnish a Stationary Knife Machine equal to any now in use, or to any offered by the pretending inventors, at the cost of the machine and five per cent. advance.

JAMES G. WILSON,
Philadelphia."

I deny that any person ever saw or heard of such a machine as mine until I invented the same. Said machine was operated in the month of August, 1848, and no machine before this could do so much work, and do it as well as mine. I refer to the above advertisement, and in order that the public may be assured that I mean what I say, I will offer to pay ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS to any person who can produce from said Bentham, that ONE of my machines will plane, or plane, tongue and groove with less power, as much lumber in the same time, and do it as well, or better than TWO of the "Woodworth" machines. The trial to be made at my Steam Mill, Border St., East Boston, Mass., or at such other place as may be convenient for such a trial.

GRIST MILLS.

THE subscribers, thankful for past favors, beg leave to announce that they have recently added the Foundry business to their former occupation of Mill stone manufacturing, and are now prepared to supply the public with articles in either branch, on terms that will defy competition.

In offering our Stoves to the community, we do so with the full assurance that we can supply better articles than can be purchased at any other place, being entirely new patterns, manufactured with care and from the very best materials. The following list of patterns is offered with the confidence that they will give satisfaction in every particular, viz:

THE ECONOMIST

DOUBLE OVEN COOKING STOVE,

Possesses great advantage over every other stove, for plain flues and direct application of heat, being so arranged that one or both ovens can be used at pleasure. It will roast, bake and boil with less fuel in use, and with half the fuel, not consuming over four cords of wood in one year.

THE TRIUMPH, single oven, takes in long wood, is an excellent stove—one that has been well tested, and given general satisfaction.

THE PHILADELPHIA is different in its construction from any other made, in the arrangement of the flue—acknowledged to be a great improvement.

THE JUNO PARLOR is adapted for either wood or coal, has a neat and substantial appearance, and for the money can not be excelled by any other stove offered to the public, having all the convenience of the stove combined with the beauties of the open grate. It is beautifully ornamental, highly finished, and perfect in every respect. The ash-pan and flue are below the grate and below the grate being opened or closed with three doors, and so arranged that when open they are completely out of sight. It is equally adapted to either wood or coal.

THE RADIATOR is the best coal stove ever got up as a radiator of heat.

Persons contemplating their stoves of us, in the event of any of the plates getting broke, can at all times be supplied with extra ones, thus superceding the necessity of throwing away stoves, which many in this way compelled to do in buying Eastern stoves.

Those who are in want of an article in our line, will find it to their advantage to give us a call, before purchasing elsewhere, as we are confident that we can give satisfaction in all cases. City references given, where our stoves can be seen in operation, and set up in any part of the city, free of charge. All orders promptly attended to.

MR. GILBERT'S LETTER.

THE FIRE IN FLETCHER AND PEARL-ES, NEW YORK.

New York, Dec. 20, 1851.

Messrs. STEARNS and MARVIN, successors, to C. Rich & Co., No. 146, Water Street, New York.—SIRS, when the fire was consuming my place of business, No. 216, Pearl street, I was absent in Hudson County, testing a new cleaning apparatus in connection with my Excelsior Thrasher, and did not read the account until I was fearful it was too late to save my books which were placed in one of your safes, just taken from Mr. Marvin some years ago. My fears were not allayed when I found it necessary upon my return to apply the Croton Water 30 hours before the safe was allowed to commence operations; after which it required 24 hours of labor and application to raise the Salamander from its ashy bed. You may judge of my anxiety during this delay, and my agreeable surprise upon opening the safe in the presence of a number of gentlemen, to find my books and papers saved, and no legible sign by which the Safe was subjected, can be conjectured from the condition of another safe, (not a Salamander) of which an iron skeleton frame only remained, and contained a vestige of a book. There were companions in the same ashes, on the second floor, from which they fell upon crates of earthen ware in the cellar, the united safe upon the bottom of the cellar, and the whole building burned to the ground. Insured as I have been, not even the skeleton would have remained. My loss over the insurance is $1,900, yet the salvation of my books in your Salamander, which are worth over $100,000, and important documents which could not be duplicated, has fully compensated me.

It will afford me great pleasure to exhibit the new safe purchased of you, and testimonials, at my present office, No. 241 Pearl street, where I shall remain until the new building, No. 216, is erected.

Yours, respectfully, JOSEPH C. GILBERT.

The undersigned invite country merchants and others interested in the preservation of their books from fire, (the past season having been Rich's year,) to call and visit the great 146 Water street, New York, to see the inferior of Mr. Gilbert's safe with the books undisturbed, which are to be kindly requested to remain for the satisfaction and gratification of the public.
